Reorienting public para-veterinary service.

Assam State Veterinary Roadmap Project

অসম চৰকাৰ

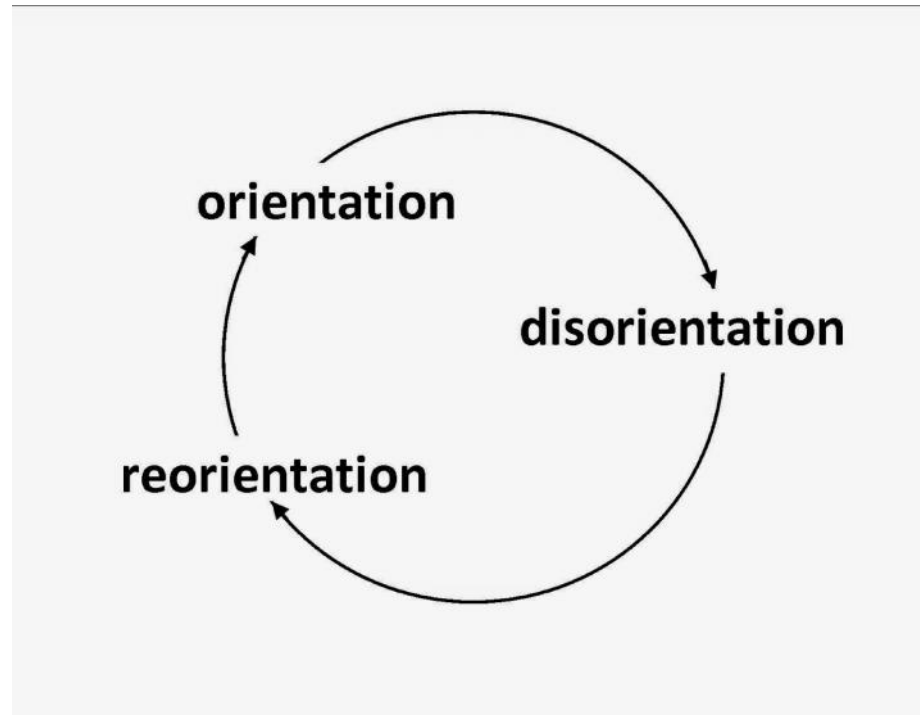

GOVERNMENT OF ASSAM

Animal Husbandry and Veterinary

Assam is a state where farm, wild and companion animals are contributing to human health, nutrition, livelihood, entrepreneurship development, employment generation, sustainable economic and social wellbeing of all its citizens.

Reorientation:

The action of changing the focus or direction of something Or familiarization with something again.

Service delivery should focus on:

- ☐ Availability
- ☐ Accessibility
- ☐ Acceptability
- ☐ Adequacy
- ☐ Affordability

5A's

Para-veterinary services should be re-oriented to ensure service availability in remotest locations and to the people who need it most !

People in para-veterinary services should be re-oriented to think beyond animal / livestock farmer. They should be made capable of handling concerns of all people in livestock business including consumers of livestock products or public in general.

Para-veterinary service should be re-oriented towards supporting livelihood of all people in livestock business. Para-vets should essentially understand the definition of 'Livelihood' to appreciate the importance of their services.

The livelihood equation

Capabilities + assets + activities which people utilize to make living= Livelihood

Asset: Cow

Activity: Dairy Farming

Skill : Milking

Cap: e.g. Infrastructure to hold and transport milk.

Physical strength and mental ability of the farmer to handle animal and to understand issues related to dairy farming.

Para-veterinary services should be re-oriented to support the development project management and livestock business development related functions at village level.
